Governor Bailey to Ride Special Train With F. D.

In Washington, He Plans to Make Tour in Arkansas Saturday

BATTLE FOR SOUTH

New Deal Definitely Pointing for Economic Fight in Dixie

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Governor Bailey made tentative plans Thursday to ride President Roosevelt's train through Arkansas Saturday morning. Bailey and Harry Hopkins, relief administrator, had accepted an invitation to receive an honorary degree from the University of Arkansas at Fayetteville October 8 and to dedicate the stadium being built at the university with state and federal funds.

Another "Date" for F. D. WASHINGTON, (AP)—President Roosevelt added another speaking engagement to his cross country tour Thursday, accepting an invitation to visit Barnesville, Ga., August 11.

Carry Fight to Dixie

WASHINGTON, (AP)—President Roosevelt is seeking to carry the fighting to New Deal foes in the South, Democratic, or Republican. That was plainly indicated by his letter opening the administration conference of economic conditions in Dixie.

Mr. Roosevelt said the South was "the nation's No. 1 economic problem" and virtually pledged his administration to do something about it in the next congress.

Between the lines of that communication, political observers read a possible two-fold political purpose, dictating the timing of the conference if not its inspiration. The meeting was held in the midst of an off-year election campaign that has already brought sharply into focus differences between the White House and some Southern senators and representatives. It also came at a time when John Hamilton, Republican national chairman, is proselyting for anti-New Deal Democratic votes.

In effect, the president's letter contends that Republican management of national affairs for decades after the War Between the States is responsible for conditions in the South. His reference to "the long and tragic history of the 'depression' of the South" has that implication. It is an administration answer to Hamilton's appeals in Alabama and Virginia for Jeffersonian Democratic support of a Re-

Farm Bureau Rally for July 12 Ready

Ed O'Neal, National President, to Speak at Experiment Station

Waldo Frasier, executive secretary of the Arkansas Farm Bureau Federation, spent Thursday morning in Hope completing plans for the State Farm Bureau meeting to be held at the Branch Fruit & Truck Experiment Station near Hope, Tuesday, July 12.

Mr. Frasier said that from the reactions of the executive officers of other counties and adjoining states that between 7,000 and 10,000 farm men and women were expected to attend the meeting. Mr. Frasier stated that arrangements had been made with Bob Shelton's Sunshine Boys String Band who broadcast daily over KWHI in 5-reel report to furnish music for the program.

Another attractive feature on the program will be Sam McCullum's Columbia County Quartette.

Ed O'Neal, national president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, will give the principal address at 1:45 p. m.

Beavers Are Put to Work by Government Daming Up Streams on the Upland Ranges

Costs $8 Apiece to Catch Beaver and Carry Him Upland

But He Builds $300 Worth of Dam Where It's Needed Most

COLONY VERY BUY One Colony in Idaho Ranges Built 17 Dams in a Year

By NEA Service
Castor Canadensis, whose life work is felling trees into small streambeds dam them up, is himself sometimes damned both up and down where he does his damming in the wrong place.

Mr. Canadensis, better known as the common beaver, has been retained by the Interior Department to build check dams on the small streambeds of Idaho to improve grazing ranges.

It costs about $8 apiece to catch a beaver elsewhere and "transplant" them at the streams where each is expected to build about $300 worth of dams. These will build up the underground waterable and provide pools deep enough for duck-breeding grounds.

On the Idaho ranges the beavers have no new hand. Two hundred of him were put to work on the ranges last year, and one colony built 17 dams of a single small stream, thus maintaining an all-year-round flow in a stream which had dried up in summer to a point where it would not even water cattle.

Pioneers Knew Him, Too
The beaver has a long service record in the development of the United States. In the early pioneer day, beaver-trapping was the industry that opened up the entire western region. Beaver pelts were the chief export, and so common that they passed for money in many regions.

But like so many other abundant natural resources, the beaver was exploited, and nearly became extinct.

For instance, in Pennsylvania 1917 there was scarcely one left. It took time 36 pairs were brought in from the west, and the beaver population ran up as high as 20,000. That was too many, trapping regulations were relaxed, and now it is estimated that 10,000 beavers do their industries stuff in the Pennsylvania highlands.

Minnesota has a beaver population estimated at 75,000; New York and Maine, 25,000 each. All these and many other states have carefully encouraged the growth of beaver population.

Sometimes They're Pests
Like bagpipe music, beavers are at right—in their place. But they can do a lot of harm in the wrong place. For instance, in the delta section of irrigated land in California, they are causing a vast amount of damage, and farmers there have united in the cry: "The beaver must go!"

"The animals dig channels in the levees, block up irrigation ditches, and have been known to build houses inside the levees as big as your bedroom. Then when high water increases the pressure, bang goes the levee. Heavy machinery has crashed down into such beaver houses when the amphibious rodents tunneled them up too close to the surface."

Amibitious Little Fellows
Beavers have been known to build amazing engineering works. One dam in the Cascade mountains of Washington was 12 feet high and a quarter of a mile across. It was discovered by men trying to find out why the flow of the Kakima river had fallen off.

The project to put Mr. Beaver to work in Idaho is, therefore, not a new one. Oregon, Vermont, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Montana, Wyoming, Colorado, Pennsylvania, Minnesota, New York, Maine, and the Canadian province of Manitoba have all actively fostered the work of Castor Canadensis as forester and conservation expert.

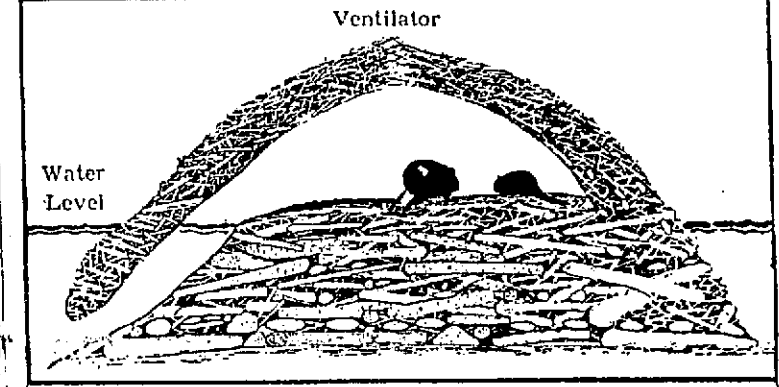

Mad Dog Is Killed in Columbus Area
It was a mad dog—instead of a man—that was killed Thursday morning on the Hope-Columbus road.

Rumors were alive on the streets here Thursday morning after local officers had received a telephone call from the Columbus area, reporting that officers hurried to the scene and on their arrival learned that a mad dog had been shot—and not a human.

The water of an "overland" flood along the lower Mississippi river travels about one-third as fast as the river itself.

How beaver dams provide a home for fish and migratory waterfowl. This dam is one of a series built by beavers across a small mountain creek. The dams support each other against sudden flood pressure, and filter out silt and sediment that would endanger man-made dams farther downstream. The sturdy construction of the dam is indicated by the fact that it readily bears the weight of the man on it.

Home life of the beaver is cozy and comfortable. The interior floor is just above water-level, and that water-level is itself controlled by Mr. Beaver by adjusting the height of his dam. The submarine entrance is good protection against non-beaver callers.

Transport of beavers from farm lands where they do harm to uplands and grazing ranges where they can do good is a regular procedure in state and federal conservation departments. Caught first in the pocketbook-like steel mesh trap shown above, Mr. Beaver is taken for a ride, and released in places where he can do his stuff by damming without being damned.

Columbus Pushes Electric Line Plan

Waldo Frasier Addresses Meeting of 40 Citizens There

A rural electrification meeting was held at Columbus school Wednesday night which approximately 40 farm men attended, representing the north-west section of Hempstead county.

Waldo Frasier, executive secretary of the Arkansas Farm Bureau, told the group that $100,000,000 in federal funds had been made available for the carrying out of rural electrification projects, and outlined to the group the steps that they could take immediately to complete a rural electrification line in Hempstead county.

Mr. Frasier told the group that it would be necessary to solicit memberships for at least 100 miles of line with a minimum of three persons per mile. This project will be joined up with Howard county, and Howard county has an area which covers almost 100

Anniversary Held in Tokyo; Sacrifice Mounts Steadily

Thousands Visit Tombs Believing Souls of Dead Still Live

A TRAGIC STRUGGLE

Economic Battle at Home Parallels Fighting in China

TOKYO, Japan.—(AP)—Japan observed the first anniversary of its undeclared war on China Thursday with a curious mingling of deep religious symbolism and harsh war-time practicality.

A moment of silence was observed at high noon.

Throughout the day thousands made solemn pilgrimages to the military shrines where, according to Shinto belief, still live the souls of the men killed in battle.

The anniversary also was used to spur the nation to greater personal sacrifice to meet Japan's desperate economic struggle, which has paralleled the fighting in China.

More Paving Here Will Begin Soon

Two Property Owners Have Deposited Money—Others to Follow

When people put up the money for work to begin, it's a pretty good sign that they mean business.

Wednesday two property owners deposited $182 with City Treasurer Chas. Reynerson for materials to pave their property.

These two property owners are B. C. Hollis and John James. The other property owners on the block have promised to put up the money for their paving within the week.

In several other sections of Hope, property owners are planning to take advantage of the unusual opportunity to pave at the very low cost of 15c per square foot.

This is made possible through the co-operation of WPA, which is furnishing all labor and supervision free, and the saving made by paying cash for materials furnished by the city at actual wholesale cost.

These two savings, together with other savings of lawyer's fees, advertising for sale of bonds and letting contracts and other expenses incurred in organizing paving districts, makes it possible to pave now for from one-quarter to one-sixth of the previous costs.

Just as soon as there is sufficient paving in sight to justify organizing a crew, WPA will start to work. From present indications, this will be in the near future.

SERIAL INTERNE TROUBLE BY ELINORE COWAN STONE

CHAPTER I

TRAN DEARBORN entered Saint Vincent's as a student nurse without any one's having taken the trouble to warn her that, in a big hospital, the lowest form of human life is a probationer. . . . Lower than the cuttiest of the internes—although even Tran could see that their assumption of family sophistication was often but a thin cloak to hide panic and a devastating sense of bewilderment.

When Tran's mother had christened her "Tranquility," her husband had warned her that she was inviting disaster.

"And anyhow," he had said, "you don't suppose any one is going to call her that, do you?"

And, of course, no one did. "Tranquility" seemed so preposterously out of keeping with everything that was Tran Dearborn.

Perhaps that was because her slight body, with its restless dancing feet, and hands that would dart into quick gestures unless she held them tightly clasped, seemed to be driven by a nervous dynamo too powerful for its size. . . . More likely it was because of her eyes.

Those wide, dark eyes of Tran's—so out of proportion to her small pale face, with the dusting of golden freckles over a high-bridged nose that might have been haughty if it had not been faintly funny—often gave her a resemblance to a startled fawn on the verge of flight. . . . That is un-

If there isn't any star within your sky—
Pretend it's there!
Why, a make-believe one swinging white and high
Is just as fair!
If you'll put it where you'll see it every night,
Just where the sky's particularly bright—
Your star is sure to guide your steps aright.
If there isn't any sunshining in your day—
Why, put some in!
If you've never tried to make your sun that way,
Oh, do begin!
This sunshine-making's hard, but you won't mind.

More Loans to Be Made This County

Worthy Tenants to Receive Bankhead-Jones Loans, Says Wade

With eight farm families of Hempstead county already approved for ownership loans under provisions of the Bankhead-Jones farm tenant purchase measure in which this county was a participant last year, several additional loans will be made county tenants from the fund available for the program for the new fiscal year beginning July 1, 1938, Hempstead County Farm Security Administration Supervisor announced here Thursday.

Plans approved by the state Bankhead-Jones farm tenant purchase committee in session at Little Rock, Ark., recently call for increasing the list of participating counties in the state this year, but to continue making a limited number of loans in counties that participated in the first year's operation of the program. Supervisor Wade says:

"It is the general plan of the Farm Security Administration to bring the number of loans in new and old counties up to an approximate level. In other words, here in Hempstead county we have encountered 8 loans from the 1937-38 program funds. Generally speaking, funds for the new year will provide for about ten loans in the new counties with enough additional loans in the second-year counties to bring their number to ten. In this county we can roughly estimate that we will be permitted to make about two or more additional loans during the new fiscal year which is just beginning."

"This is necessarily a flexible policy that will be altered considerably to fit conditions in different counties. The total number of loans any county will have will vary rather widely in different counties. Availability of acceptable land that can be purchased at appraised prices will have a direct bearing on the number of loans that will be made. In some counties it is extremely difficult to acquire acceptable land. The need for such loans among the farm tenant families of the counties will be another determining factor. Different systems of farming and modes of economic life materially alter the need and desire for the type of loan this program offers in different sections of the country."

Supervisor Wade said the present county tenant purchase committee which has served as an advisory body during the past year will continue in the new program. It is composed of H. Earl King, chairman, Hugh Garner, E. M. Osborne.

The same general policies and procedure will be followed during the new fiscal year that have been established in the year just closed.

Farm tenants who are interested in applying for one of the loans can secure application blanks and other information from the Farm Security Administration office in the Briant building over Jacks News Stand.

To be eligible to apply a person must be a bona fide farmer—that is, he must be or have recently been engaged in farming as a means of providing the major portion of the family income as a tenant, farm laborer, sharecropper or recent owner. He must be a citizen of the United States and be unable to obtain an adequate loan on reasonable terms for the purchase of a farm from other sources.

A person's past record will be carefully considered in selecting borrowers from the persons applying.

The loan is made for two things: (1) acquiring a small family-size farm of sufficient size and fertility to support an adequate standard of living; (2) to make such essential improvements on the farm that are necessary to comfortable living and sound farming. By a family-size farm is meant a farm which can be operated without outside labor and which will support the family adequately and produce enough cash to meet payments on the loan and other fixed charges. Actual size will vary with the individual family, soil types, kind of farming to be done and other variable factors. Existing improvements will be fully utilized and expenditures for improvements will be held to a minimum.

Loans must be repaid within an agreed period of time not to exceed forty years with interest on unpaid balances at three per cent. A surplus above the average annual payment will be collected in periods of abundant production and good prices to enable the buyer to reduce his payments in years when his income is below normal. The farmer may pay the entire indebtedness and take a clear title at any time he can and wants to do so. However, he cannot make a final payment, nor will the government's interest be released prior to five years from the making of the loan. This feature is included to prevent speculation. A regular first mortgage lien on the farm is held by the government.

The farmers in this county whose Bankhead-Jones loan applications have been approved are: Henry Fowler, Route 3, Hope; C. B. Willard, Route 1, Nashville; Carter Scoggins, Route 1, Nashville; Charles Otis Sims, Route 3, Hope; R. L. Bonds, Blewins; L. B. Delaney, Ozan; Andrew H. Rhodes, McCall; Elbert Jones, Route 2, Hope.

THEATERS

At the New

That personable and popular young actor Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., returns to the screen of the New theater Thursday and Friday in one of the most entertaining films this reviewer has witnessed this season—or any season, by that matter.

Titled "When Thief Meets Thief," it is the third offering of Criterion Film Productions, the young company headed by Doug, Jr., and Marcel Haidman, and offers the younger Fairbanks an opportunity, in the role of Ricky Morgan, a romantic "human fi" burglar, to go in for the elaborate acrobatics that first made his father famous, and the dashing Doug gives the greatest performance of his career.

Valerie Hobson, the Irish beauty who scored a terrific hit in "Hellwood" scores again opposite Doug and Ann Hale, that perennially popular character actor, gives a powerful performance as the villainous Jin Dial.

Thrilling Story
When the story opens we find Ricky Morgan, a New Orleans dock loader, loading liquor on a New Orleans dock for Jim Dial, bootlegger. Handsome, strong and clean-cut, the boy has had to leave college, and earn a living at the first job that came to hand.

When a fellow worker is accidentally killed in a fight with Ricky, Dial convinces Ricky he is a murderer and, on the strength of this, forces him to commit a series of very dangerous robberies—one requiring a daring jump from an airplane.

Ricky finally rebels and escapes to England. Here he meets Glory Howard, a lovely adventuress whose jewels he has attempted to rob, and they fall in love. Unknown to him she has become engaged to one Colonel Farr, who is really our old friend Dial, living on the fat of the land with the proceeds of Ricky's burglaries.

Arkansas Fugitive Taken in Colorado

W. A. Beale, Escapee, Doesn't Know He Is Identified

DENVER, Colo.—(AP)—Deputy District Attorney Joseph Cook said Wednesday night a prisoner was on his way to Denver from Corpus Christi, Texas, to face a minor charge but unaware that he had been identified as an escaped life-term Arkansas convict.

Arkansas prison officials telegraphed that a finger-print check identified A. A. Bailey, 45, as one W. A. Beale, Cook declared.

The Arkansas officials said Beale escaped in May, 1935 while serving a murder term.

Thirteen years were required to construct the Suez Canal.

STORIES IN STAMPS

When the Constitution Became a Fact

DESSIMISTIC, torn by discord, the Constitutional Convention assembled in Philadelphia for the framing of a new supreme law to bind the states, May 25, 1787. It completed its work Sept. 17, 1787, with formal adoption of the Constitution. But the fate of the mighty document remained doubtful thereafter for many months.

Delaware was the first of the 13 states to ratify it, Dec. 7, 1787. Pennsylvania was second, Dec. 12; then New Jersey, Dec. 18; Georgia, Jan. 2. Then Connecticut accepted the Constitution. The results in these five states were more easily obtained because the friends of the Constitution were quick to act. With delay in the other states bitterness of contention rose high.

Massachusetts, at length, fell in line, by a close margin; then Maryland and South Carolina. There remained five states to ratify, all extremely doubtful. But while Virginia was bitterly debating the question in convention in June, 1788, New Hampshire ratified the Constitution June 21 and the new government became a fact. Soon after the remaining states followed. The 150th anniversary of this ratification is commemorated by the special new U. S. stamp above, depicting riders spreading the word at a county courthouse.

Local Negro to Fight Louisiana Boxer Here Friday Night

Preacher Walker, hard hitting local negro welterweight, has been added to Friday night's fight card at the Byers arena on South Main street. Preacher meets Battling Bono, Louisiana fighter, in the four round semi-final bout. Fred Bohman, CCC recruit who asked to meet a local boy in his next bout here has been signed to meet Harold Simpson, Hope fighter, in the feature three round preliminary. Simpson weighs 149 pounds and Bohman 157.

All the contestants for Friday night's battle royal will be named Friday. Plans are being made for a bigger and better royal than was offered on last week's card.

Clas, Sanders, Hope negro, issued a challenge to Pinkie Carrigan Wednesday for a fight on this week's card. Carrigan has been suffering from a slight cold for the past few days but if it is safe for him to go through with the bout this week the fight will be included on Friday's program.

As was announced in Tuesday's Star D. K. Carson, of Hope, meets Lee Roy Daniels, Fulton heavyweight, in the free round main event. This is a return fight from their first meeting last week when Carson won a close decision over Daniels.

WHEN COLD IS KING

MEALS need to be crisp, cool and succulent to tempt warm weather appetites; and ice—shaved, cracked, or in taste-free, crystal-clear cubes—comes into its own as first aid to summer menus.

APPETIZERS

For a veritable flower-garden dist. surround fruit cup or tomato juice cocktail with shaved ice, tinted pale green. To tint the ice, pour a drop or two of vegetable coloring over it and mix lightly to blend the color.

For an attractive and refreshing cocktail accompaniment, serve celery curls, raw carrot sticks and huge ripe olives in a bowl of cracked ice.

FROSTY DRINKS

Cold drinks are as much a part of summer life as picnics and swimming and if you keep on hand on your emergency shelf, a variety of canned fruit juices, you can serve them at a moment's notice. Merely fill a tall glass with shaved ice and pour over it apricot, grapefruit, or pineapple juice or a combination of all three and garnish with a sprig of mint. It's easy to secure as much cracked ice as you want, if you have a modern, air-conditioned ice refrigerator. Just cover one corner of the cake of ice with cheesecloth (to keep the chips from scattering while you work) and with the handy ice pick, chip off the desired amount. Ice cubes—tasteless and crystal-clear—are only a minute's work with the handy little cuber.

Howell, of the CCC camp, was forced to postpone his fight with Roy Taylor until next week.

Two good preliminaries will open the card promptly at 8:30. Tickets go on sale at 8 p. m.

To make 'Lassies Delights: Mix 1 cup light molasses, 1/4 cup sugar, 1/2 cup melted butter, 1/2 cup boiling water. Then add 3 cups flour sifted with the following: 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon soda, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons cinnamon, 1 teaspoon each nutmeg and cloves. Mix thoroughly. Stir in 1 cup each of raisins and chopped nuts; then add 1 1/2 cups uncooked rolled oats.

Chill thoroughly in air-conditioned ice refrigerator, or store there. Protected by the properly moist, clean-washed air of this modern refrigerator, it will keep fresh and sweet, until needed. Bake as drop cookies in a moderately hot oven (375°) for about 12 minutes. Makes 6 dozen cookies.

The most convenient way to drop dumplings into broth is to first dip a clean spoon into the broth. Then dip up the dough and it will slide off easily into the broth.

Here is some ammunition for the housewife who is waging a continuous battle with dirt. Spray guns to your cleaning equipment. Keep one filled with kerosene and use it to lightly spray the floors, rugs and broom before sweeping up the dust and dirt.

Fill the other gun with furniture oil and spray this on the floors, dry mop and dust cloths.

To make a hot water bottle soft and "comfy," lay the filled bottle down on the table and bring the top back, gently, forcing out the air with your hand. Then, while the bottle is still in this position, screw in the stopper. The same method may be used in filling ice bags.

Food choppers that have been used for grinding meat, cheese and other hard-to-remove foods, may be cleaned in just a jiffy! Simply run half a cup of finely crushed ice through the food chopper, and it will remove all of those little stubborn particles so that the chopper may be quickly cleaned.

The next time a custard "curdles" on you, do not despair. Simply drop 2 or 3 marshmallows in the curdled custard and stir until they are melted. Then whip the mixture with a rotary egg beater, and in a few minutes the custard will be smooth.

Here is a recipe that hails from Georgia for "Golden Glean Pie." It will convince you that while "everything is peaches down in Georgia" it is apricots that are the real golden nuggets in this glorious pie.

Line a pie tin with unbaked pastry. Then place canned apricots, using plenty of them to fill the pie. Cut side up, in the pastry-lined pie tin. Mix 1 cup sugar with 2 tablespoons cornstarch and sprinkle over the apricots. Fill the pie to within 1/2 inch of the top with sweet cream. Bake in a hot oven (450°) for 10 minutes, then reduce heat to a moderate oven (350°) and bake approximately 50 minutes.

National League Team Wins, 4 to 1

Vander Meer Gets Credit for Victory Over Gomez

CROSBY FIELD, Cincinnati, O.—(AP)—The American League's all-stars put on an explosive display Wednesday but it was their defense that blew up with the result that the Nationals combined superb pitching with alert all-around play to capture the sixth inter-league game.

The score was 4 to 1 as the Nationals, in their first triumph since 1936 and their second since the "dream game" was inaugurated in 1933, defeated their hard-hitting rivals.

Faced in the pitching by Johnny VanderMeer, Cincinnati's ace, the Nationals seized all available opportunities to gain an early lead and then stood off two closing threats.

Vander Meer, who set the American League sluggers down with a single in the first three innings as he out-pitched his southpaw rival, Vern Gomez, of the Yankees, received credit for the victory, topping off a glorious rookie season for the boy who made baseball history by pitching two successive no-hit games.

Gomez was charged with his first defeat in all-star competition. The Yankee pitcher, who was a starting pitcher for the fifth time in six years, had been credited with three of the four American League triumphs. The one run made off Gomez pitching was unearned in the first inning, but it was enough to produce his first setback.

The Nationals barely outlasted their foes, 8 to 7, but backed up the superb pitching of Vander Meer, Bill Lee of the Cubs and Mace Brown of the Pirates, with spectacular and errorless defensive play. Lee, like Vander Meer, yielded only one hit. Brown was touched for five in the last three innings.

Americans' Defense Cracks By contrast the Americans, on the defense, came apart in several places. They committed four errors, climaxed by a pair of wild throws by Jimmie Foxx and Joe DiMaggio, in the seventh, that let the last two National League runs across the plate. Three of the four National runs were unearned.

The Americans averted the first shutout of the all-star competition by rallying in the ninth. Heroic work by Brown himself, plus spectacular support, in both the seventh and ninth, prevented the Americans from breaking loose with a typical scoring outburst.

York Proves "Goat" The high point of the game's drama came in the seventh when Rudy York, the clean-up clouter of the Detroit Tigers, was fanned by Brown with two out and the bases filled with American League players.

The danger signals were hoisted again in the ninth, which DiMaggio started with a line single to left. Joe Medwick, left-fielder and champion hitter of the National League, went to the rescue with a dazzling one-handed tumbling catch of Bill Dickey's long smash, labeled for extra bases. Joe Cronin's double, to the left center wall, tallied DiMaggio, then Ival Gooden backed up to the right field bleachers to spear Lou Gehrig's line drive.

Brown again pulled himself out of the hole by retiring the last batsman, Pinch-hitter Bob Johnson, on strikes.

Hack Scores First While Vander Meer was facing only 10 batsmen in the first three frames, yielding only a third-inning single by Cronin, the Nationals were out in front by a one-run margin. Stan Hack, the Cubs' third-sacker, who was also a defensive stalwart, opened with a single off Gomez. He went to third when Billy Herman's sharp grounder—a potential double-play ball—went through Cronin's hands for an error, and scored on Medwick's long fly.

The second National run, made in the fourth, was the only one earned. It resulted from Mel Ott's triple and Ernie Lombardi's single to left with Johnny Allen of Cleveland pitching for the Americans.

Seventh Inning Exciting The most exciting display of fireworks came in the seventh inning and kept the big crowd in a continual uproar.

SLEIGHT OF HAND view of E. J. Filby in action at Wimbledon tennis matches needs that shadow in foreground as proof that the tennis player really held a racket when the picture was made. The racket was tilted at such an angle and blended so closely with his arm that it's scarcely visible. Filby lost in the first day's play to H. W. "Bunny" Austin.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

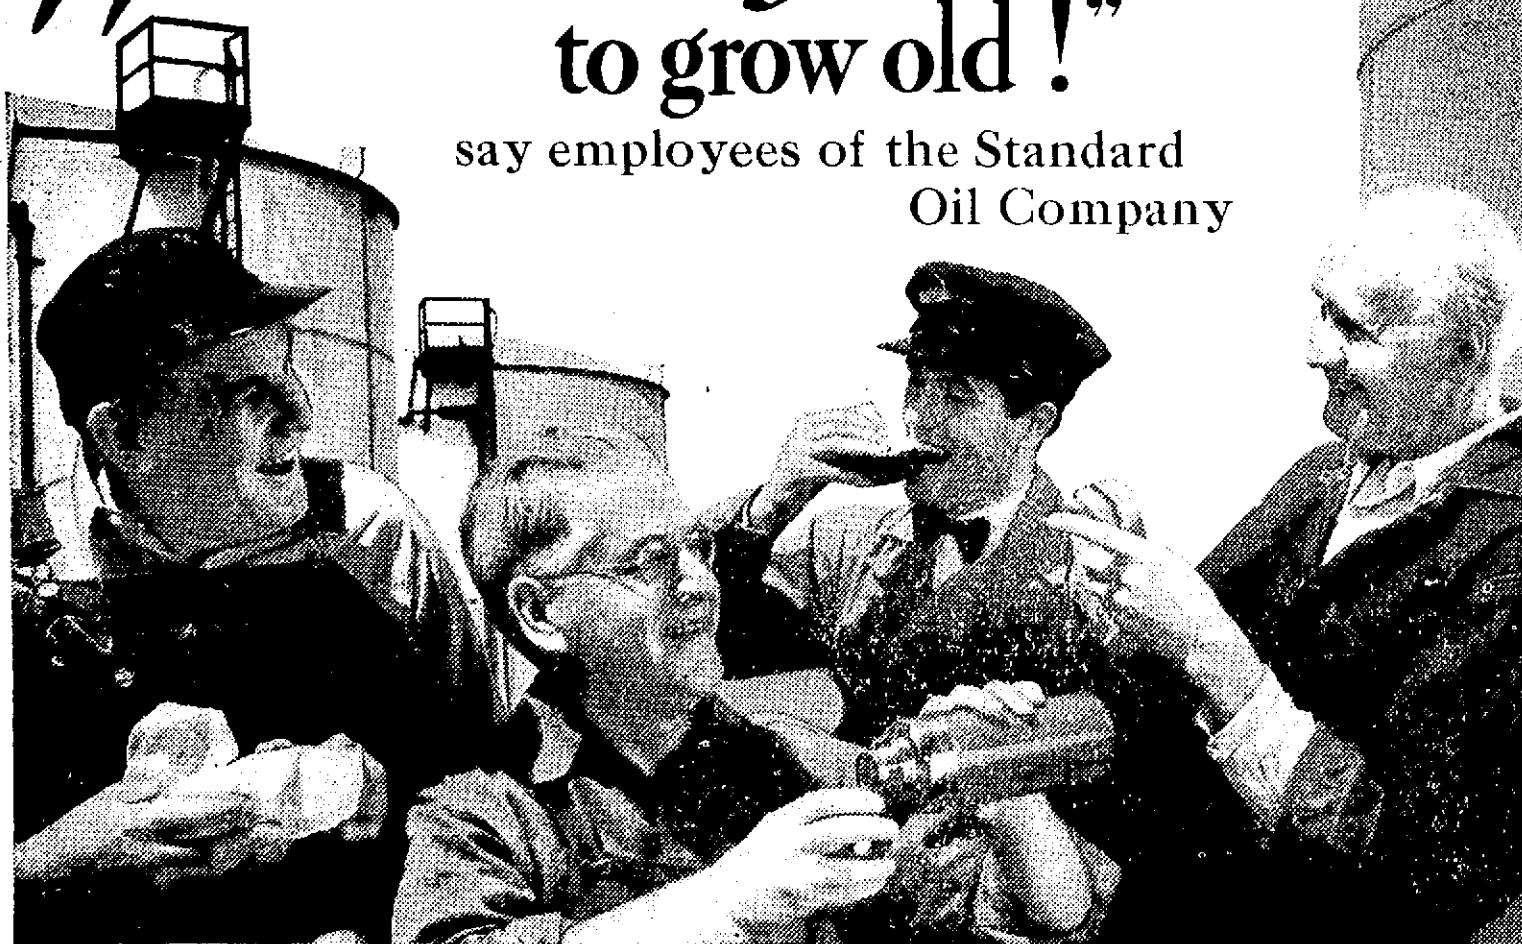

Many sufferers relieve nagging backaches quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the cause of nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 10 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

"We're not Afraid to grow old!"

say employees of the Standard Oil Company

If it's popular to consider this a young man's world, then the Standard Oil Company is way out of line. For here in Arkansas more than 50% of our employees are over 40. Not that we don't encourage young men to join our organization—more than one-tenth of our Arkansas employees are 30 years old or younger.

But we believe the man over 40 has earned the right to employment. He has given the best of his youth to learning a job. He is at the peak of his family responsibilities. Here in Arkansas we have a good many of these men who came to us in early life and count on us in their later years. They know we're not going to let them down.

Furthermore, it wouldn't be good business to do so. The man over 40 has reached his greatest skill. Experience shows us clearly that he is at the height of his productive power—except for a few jobs requiring great physical exertion.

So we aim to retain a man until he is 65, when those with requisite service are granted life annuities. Retirement may be made at an earlier age, particularly when an employee is disabled. Many of our Arkansas employees now are retired and living on income from the company.

Our operating efficiency has risen while this labor policy has been in force. For example, since 1929 our gasoline price has been reduced by an average of 20.7%—and we deliver a vastly improved product.
